The Late Col. Cameron.

To Maj. A. Eliott, U.S. A., and Mr. Jno. Kans, orderly to the late Colonel Cameron, was assigned, by the Secretary of War, the homorable though melanoholy duty of searching for his hody, which the Confederate military authorities at Richmond had stated, in answer to ties at Mohmond had stated, in abover to communication as to its disposal, was buried in a manner becoming his rank, and the grave properly marked for future identification, and, if incressary, exhumation. How far this statement is consistent with the much vanuted ideas of "Southern chivalry" and "high toned gentlemen," will be heat shown by the following statement:

On arriving at the battle-field of Buil Run, the party immediately instituted enquiries, the result at first being very unsatisfactory. Nothing daunted, however, they continued them with redoubled ardour and interest, which terminated in bringing out the fact that his body had been taken, in the course of the pursuit, from the Federal ambulance in which it had been placed by the Black Horse cavalry, and thrown like a dead dog a few yards in front of a small house which at the time was, we understand, heing used as a temporary hospital. It had lain but a few minutes, when it was deprived of coat, shoes, and stockings; and a hieness of Mrs. Colonel Cameron was found in the breast pocket of his coat. Tha latter article was entic Mrs. Jeff. Davis. For several days the body, along with five Federal soldiers, remained unburied and unbeeded, until the effluvia from it and them becames so offsensive, that a woman who had taken possession of the bouse, after it had no longer been used for a heapital, requested some slaves to remove and bury them. Centrary to inneversal prediction, the day has been pleasant and the elements agreeable, and the devoted followers of that apositle have enjoyed themselves in a way characteristic of the peculiar tenets of their religious faith. We understand that a sumptions repast, in commemoration of the day, came of at Ramey's well known and popular restaurant, on Datreet, between Sixth and leventh, lest evening. Good cheer, wit, and humor prevailed during the night, concluding with a hearty wish for a repetition of the same good time for many years to come.

By late advices from Fernandina, Florida, we learn that Elias Yuise, formerly Surveyo-General of Washington Territory, but more recently an examiner in the Patent Office in this city, has turned up as commissary in the rebel army. At the approach of the Union feet into the harbor of Fernandina, he left very suddening with the balance of "ancest" for the interior. He is a bruther of the seconding Florida Senator, David I. Yuise.

Mr. William Wheley, of combine renown, has also turned up in Dixin, in the character of Union prisoner at Richmond. He was arrested at Marassas some time since, by the rebels, for too freely avowing Union seniments, and was thus disposed of.

The Shooting Case on Buskard's Point.

We mentioned, in our issue of yesterday, that a solder, belonging to the Minty-first regiment Pennsylvania volunteers, was shot on Buzzard's Point by the keeper of a groggery, named Luckett. Since then, we have saceratined that two men were shot-both of them members of the above named regiment. Their names are Francis Toner and William Gorman, privates in company P. Luckett, the man who shot the two men, was brought before Justice Walter, yesterday, for examination. He acknowledged that he had fixed the gun, but alleged that it was done in self-siefenee, as the men, at the time, were stoning his bouse. He was committed to jad, but being refused by the justice.
